MerriHealth Disability Services

Giving opportunity to people with a disability to live life to the full, with flexible health services and greater choices.

Health services

Under the NDIS, health services are referred to as 'Allied Health'.

Support from an occupational therapist, speech pathologist and dietician for people with all types of disabilities. We offer face-to-face appointments and assessments in your home or at a suitable location. We can support with home modifications, assistive technology, referrals to other services, easy to read reports for your NDIS planner or Local Area Coordinator, and functional assessments to build your capacity and independence.

Exercise physiology

This service supports older people and those with a disability to stay active. We can help with an exercise assessment and provide recommendations tailored for you, health education and disease management. We can also help you learn how to exercise safely in settings such as local leisure centres and gyms.

Occupational therapy

This service will help make it easier for you to undertake daily activities. Occupational therapists provide assessment and advice to help people achieve maximum mobility and comfort at home. This may include installing equipment to help you feel safe and prevent falls.

Physiotherapy

Physiotherapy can help with movement and getting around, injuries and/or pain conditions. A physiotherapist can provide home-based exercise programs or may recommend water exercises, gentle gym classes and chair-based classes.

Podiatry

Podiatrists can help prevent and treat foot, ankle and lower leg problems. They can provide information on how to avoid problems and advise on foot care and footwear.

Speech pathology

This service can help with communication and swallowing problems. People who have a disability or long-term illness and those who are frail aged can access this service. A speech pathologist can visit the client at home, if needed.

Social groups

Our social groups are known as Social Support Programs and help older people, people with memory loss and people with disabilities to stay healthy and active. We run the Healthy Mind Hub which are interesting and fun activities at our sites and within the community, such as walking groups, exercise classes, book clubs and social outings. These are tailored to people's needs, interests and culture. These activities promote physical activity, staying connected with the community, emotional wellbeing, and building or maintaining daily skills and capacity. The Healthy Mind Hub runs from Monday to Friday.
